Have you ever met a wolf face-to-face? This is your chance! Tucked away in a remote area below the Sangre de Cristo mountain range in Southern Colorado is an amazing place called Mission: Wolf, a sanctuary and home to approximately 30 wolves. This action-packed, 5-day, 4-night, trip provides a unique opportunity to camp out for the week, learn about wolves, meet live wolves face-to-face, learn survival skills and animal tracking, play games, go on night hikes, and complete meaningful Action Projects to help care for the wolves and their habitat. Our knowledgeable and well-trained instructors are Wilderness First Aid and CPR certified and will provide a secure learning space to prepare participants to manage risk.
