

Precision Writing

Don't let the summer erase all of the writing strategies you learned this past year in school. Descriptive, comparative, and narrative are a few of the writing genres that will be available to compose in, in order to keep your writing skills crisp and precise. Editing tips regarding the use of transitions and the avoidance of low level vocabulary are a few of the lessons that will be covered in this class. Class numbers are kept low to allow for plenty of individual interaction with the instructor. Taught by a seasoned writing teacher, each student will leave the class with handouts tailored to support their personal growth in writing. Your child may bring in their laptop, iPad, or a journal to use for their writing, but that is not mandatory as the instructor will provide journals, loose leaf paper, and writing materials. NOTE: This class is not a creative writing class.
