

Cottonwood Institute &
Colorado Academy Present:

THE ENDANGERED WOLVES PROGRAM JULY 27-31, 2026

An unforgettable wilderness experience for students

Imagine your student camping under the stars, learning survival skills, working alongside conservationists, and meeting wolves face-to-face!

The Endangered Wolves Program is a unique, immersive outdoor learning adventure that brings students deep into the wild landscapes of southern Colorado to explore wildlife conservation, environmental leadership, and outdoor skills.

For nearly 18 years (since 2008), this transformational program has inspired students to connect with nature, build confidence, and discover their ability to create positive change.

Spots are limited! Reserve your student's place today!

WHY PARENTS LOVE THIS PROGRAM

The program blends environmental education, service learning, and outdoor adventure – a combination to help students grow academically, socially, and personally.

Students return home with:

- Increased confidence
- Stronger leadership skills
- Greater independence
- Deeper appreciation for nature
- Lifelong memories and friendships
